

In at the beginning

Truedeal are an engineering business that specialises in mechanical services. The company has a real history of innovation from its early ductwork days through to its current mechanical services work today.

Like every successful business, the company is run on IT which means it has to be reliable. OCD delivers this and has done for the last 15 years – since the OCD Ltd was founded.

“We do review this, but the truth is that from the reports people give me about other support companies, we know that OCD are doing a good Job”

15 years and still focused on the same things

“We’ve been working with OCD pretty much from the beginnings of the company. We liked the approach that Kevin was taking to the whole concept of delivering IT services and support. Like we do, his focus was on delivering real value to us as the customer,” comments Tony Murphy.

At OCD when we founded the company in 1994, we made the decision to focus on quality and service, with a view to ensuring that we were an asset to our customers, not a cost. This is still the way we think about our business and the way we engage with our customers and do what we do for them.

“OCD is a breath of fresh air in many ways. We know we can rely on them. We know that our systems will be fine and if we do need something fixed, then the majority of times, we know it’ll be fixed well within the time allocated in our agreement,” states Tony Murphy.

“The quality and speed of the fixes are a good measure of a company. OCD is a good company”

It’s good that some things don’t change

“We have gone through a lot of changes, since we started working with OCD and grown significantly as a business, but one of the really good constants in our business is OCD,” concludes Tony Murphy

Technology may change, the way people work may change but at OCD we remain absolutely rock solid in our commitment to delivering the very highest quality of IT, products, services and support there is.
